

Twickenham Preparatory School

Nurturing, Inspiring, Successful

Further to the Government's direction the school site is now closed until further notice. We are open for key worker children this week and to ensure the smooth running of our online learning platforms. At this stage there is no guidance available as to when children and visitors will be able to come back into school.

We will continue to offer an admissions service throughout this period and we are happy to talk to you regarding admissions to the school at any time. Please also follow our social media accounts as we will continue to keep these filled with lots of information about the school.

Message from our Headmaster: David Malam

We would like to thank the many parents who have taken the time and trouble to express and offer their support in such uncertain times. I would also like to thank all of my colleagues and the Governors who have approached this situation in such a brilliant and positive way with that great determination to navigate through these difficulties successfully as quickly as we are able. I would also like to express my pride in how our pupils approached last week in such a calm and positive way. The strong sense of community and togetherness at the school is something that we all treasure at TPS and although for a while we will be unable to meet collectively together, we will still be conducting whole-school events remotely next week and after the Easter break. This week we will be having an online whole-school assembly every morning which I will be taking and hope you will be able to join us for. There will also be a story-time online at the end of each day for the whole school community. In our last assembly on Friday we reminded the pupils that, despite the temporary closure of the site, it is still the school term next week and the importance of fulfilling tasks as requested at home by their parents. I know that parents will have a lot of questions around exams and other school matters but please be assured that we will be communicating all necessary information in the coming days and weeks.

Any parents who were unable to collect their packs on Saturday, we will be dropping them off to you during the course of today.

Thank you for your continued support and understanding; do stay well and healthy and I hope to see you all, albeit remotely, for our assemblies this week.

Kindest Regards,

David Malam
